RECEDING FLOODS.

The Rains Having Ceased, No Further Damage is Feared.

AN ANCHOR LINE STEAMER AGROUND.

The Limit of Damage and Inconvenience to Railroads Reached, and the Condition Materially Improved — Three Million Logs Adrift.

The Rain Ceased, and No Further Damage Apprehended.

ERIE, Pa., May 18.—The rain has ceased, the flood in Mill creek has subsided, and no further damage to city property is apprehended. The Lake Shore railroad was the first to re-establish communication with the outside world. It commenced running trains through this morning. Through trains on the Philadelphia & Erie came as far west as Waterford, twenty miles from Erie, but several bridges between here and that point are gone. A like condition of affairs exists on the Nickel Plate, Erie & Pittsburgh and Shenango & Lake Erie. It will be several days before traffic can be re-established on these roads.

The damage to property in Erie is not less than $500,000, and may be twice that figure. A large proportion of the loss, in the way of damaged streets, pavements, etc., must be borne by the city. Many poor families lost their all, but there has been no general appeal for help.

The councils will meet in special session to-night and take action on the disaster.

The Anchor line steamer India, which went aground yesterday, is not yet released, although two tugs have been working at her. She is leaking badly and it is feared she is on to stay unless she can be buoyed up and floated off.

Capt. Osborne and crew are still aboard, but the life-saving crew are on hand ready to render assistance. The vessel is valued at $100,000. The cause of the accident was the loss of her rudder in the heavy weather of Tuesday night.

The Limit of Damage and Inconvenience Passed.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., May 18.—As far as the railroads centering in Pittsburgh are concerned, the limit of the damage and inconvenience resulting from the high water has been reached. The water is now receding in the rivers and creeks along the various lines according to the reports received at the city headquarters of the roads.

At New Castle, Pa., the Shenango this morning is still rising. All last night families were taken from their houses, and the work is still going on.

A break is threatened in the levees west of town at any moment, and Mayor Richardson sent the entire police force and fire department to warn the people of South New Castle to flee to the highlands. A break will cover that part of the city to a depth of at least twelve feet.

Since midnight over ten miles of the New York, Pennsylvania & Ohio track between here and Sharon has been ruined. A large railroad bridge, near the Etna furnace, went down yesterday morning carrying with it twenty loaded cars.

Several bridges and houses floated down the Shenango yesterday morning and the dead animals seen indicate that the farmers have suffered heavily. Boats are plying in three feet of water in the principal streets of the city and nearly all business has been suspended.

At Franklin, Pa., French creek is the highest ever known. All the lower part of the city is flooded. The Shenango mills, brush factory and other factories being unable to do business.

The Condition of the Railroads Materially Improved.

BUFFALO, N. Y., May 18.—At noon the condition of the railroads affected by the floods had materially improved. At the dispatchers' offices of the Lake Shore, Nickel Plate, and Western New York & Pennsylvania, it was given out that all trains on the main lines would hereafter leave Buffalo on schedule time. The Nickel Plate trains will use the Lake Shore tracks between Brockton and Erie. The Western New York & Pennsylvania report all trains running regularly except between Titusville and Oil City. Pittsburgh trains are run by way of Corry, over the Pittsburgh & Erie road. It is reported that the water is two feet deep in the passenger depot of the New York, Pennsylvania & Ohio at Meadville.

Three Million Logs Adrift.

FAIRFIELD, Me., May 19.—The river here is the highest for ten years. The Fairfield boom has been broken, and 3,000,000 logs have gone down stream. They belong to Lawrence, Newhall & Co., whose loss is heavy.

THINNING OUT.

Another Foreign Man-of-War Leaves the Hudson—The Remaining Vessels.

NEW YORK, May 19.—The Dutch man-of-war Speyk passed down the Hudson river at 10 o'clock yesterday morning on her way home. As she left her anchorage she was saluted by the few war ships which were left behind, and then proceeded slowly on her course. This leaves but eight men-of-war in the Hudson, the vessels being the Italians Aetna, Dogali and Bridani; the Russians, Domitri, Donakol and and Rynda, and the Frenchmen Arethuse and Hussard. The Russians will go to Philadelphia soon; the Arethuse will go to the Canary islands on Tuesday next, and the Hussard will take her departure for the West Indies a day or two earlier. The movements of the Italian fleet have not yet been decided upon.

As yesterday was the czarowitz's birthday, the Russians celebrated, and last night the ships were illuminated. Fireworks were also set off.

AN UNRELIABLE LOCKE.

The Indiana May Festival About to Fall Through—A Costly Fizzle.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 19.—The Indiana May festival, generally regarded as one of the great musical events of the west, has by a sudden turn of events probably fallen through, though the directors will not know positively until noon, whether or not they can go on. In the beginning they made a contract with Charles E. Locke, as impressario of New York, by which he was to furnish for five concerts, beginning next Monday night, the Seidel orchestra, and the soloists Mesdames Juch and Kelgg; Misses Reid, Poole, Fabris and Stein, and Messrs. Stevens, Galassi, Fergusson, Reiger, Sanger and Bushnell. A couple of weeks ago there were rumors of a split between Seidel and Locke, and one of the directors of the festival went to Cincinnati where Seidel was playing to see him. He admitted a dispute with Locke over $3,000 the latter owed him, but promised, notwithstanding this, to keep his engagement for the festival. Three days ago an announcement was made in New York of a series of Seidel concerts covering the dates of the festival. D. P. Erwin, one of the directors, at once went to New York. Seidel flatly refused to come or have anything to do with Locke. When the screws were put to Locke he threw up his contract for the whole business. It developed that he had contracts with but one or two of the soliats advertised.

Negotiations are now pending for the Damrosch orchestra and with the soloists, but there is a hitch with Damrosch.

The directors have already spent about $4,000 in advertising and training a superb chorus of 250 voices. About $4,000 worth of seats have been sold, the money for which will have to be refunded if the festival falls through.

MYSTERIOUS DISAPPEARANCE.

The Corpse of a Child Stolen From the Widowed Mother's Home.

LANSING, Mich., May 18.—Last night the body of a 9-year-old son of Mrs. Frank Harre, who died Monday night, was stolen from the house where it lay, by some unknown persons. About a year ago the husband of Mrs. Harre was killed by a log rolling upon him, and since that time the widow has been annoyed and persecuted by unknown persons, who have killed her stock and destroyed her farm implements. Officers are searching for the body of the child.

The Body Found—A Mother's Confession.

LANSING, Mich., May 19.—After searching the premises for some time the officers found the missing body at the bottom of a fifty-foot well. Later in the day Mrs. Harre confessed. She poisoned her little son, and says she did so because she would rather have him dead than to grow up a thief. The officers have arrested her and are on the way to Lansing with her. They believe her to be crazy.

During the past three years four other children of Mrs. Harre have died under like suspicious circumstances, but she has not confessed to killing them.

Newspaper Man Remembered by Secretary Gresham.

WASHINGTON, May 19.—Secretary Gresham yesterday appointed Mr. Clinton Furbish, of Chicago, director of the bureau of American republics, to succeed Mr. Wm. Elroy Curtis, of Chicago, resigned.

Mr. Furbish is an editoriol writer on the Chicago Times and is the third Chicago newspaper man honored by the state department with an appointment in one day.

Frank H. Brooks, of Illinois, who will go as consul to Trieste, Austria-Hungary, is a veteran newspaper man who is at present engaged on the Chicago Tribune on special work. Mr. Brooks was born in Missouri, has lived in Chicago for the last twenty years and is 50 years old. He was raised by vice-President Stevenson.

George Horton, of Illinois, appointed consul at Athens, is also a Chicago newspaper man. He is associated with the Herald and is an editorial writer. The only other state department appointment was M. M. Duffy, of Arkansas, consul at Winnipig, Man. He is a prominent lawyer in his state and was indorsed by the Arkansas delegation. He was appointed to succeed Mr. Givens, another Arkansas man, who declined the Winnipeg consulship, to which he was appointed last Saturday.

THE POLICE CHIEFS

Assemble in Convention for the Purpose of Organizing

FOR THE BETTER DISCHARGE OF DUTY.

Welcome Addresses and Other Speeches —Officers Elected — Subjects Discussed.—The Bertillion System —To Meet in St. Louis.

CHICAGO, May 19.—The convention of chiefs of police from some of the largest cities in the country began at 10 o'clock yesterday morning in the city council chamber. Chief Seavey, of Omaha, who was mainly instrumental in getting the officers together, called the meeting to order and introduced Mayor Harrison, who heartily welcomed the delegates to the city. Chief McClaughrey added a hearty second to the mayor's welcome.

Chief Seavey then spoke briefly of the subject of the convention, which was, he said, to effect a permanent police organization and so unite the protectors of the people that the percentage of crime will be greatly reduced.

On motion of Chief McClaughrey Chief Seavey was made the temporary chairman of the convention.

Committees on permanent organization and programme were then appointed, and the convention adjourned until 2 o'clock.

When the convention reassembled the committee on permanent organization reported the following officers:

President—W. S. Seavey, Omaha.

Vice-Presidents—Benjamin P. Eldridge, Boston; Roger O. Mara, Pittsburgh; W. C. Davis, Memphis; Thomas L. S. Speers, Kansas City; L. H. Harrington, St. Louis; P. Crowley, San Francisco; A. B. Connelly, Chicago.

Secretary and Treasurer—Harry O. Carr, Grand Rapids.

The committee also recommended that the name of the organization be the National Chiefs of Police Union; that membership be left open to any chief of police or superintendent of any incorporated city in the United States. The report was adopted without discussion.

A number of questions were discussed and referred to special committees, among them the following: "Police Regulations Applicable to any City in the Country;" "A Telegraph Code;" "Arresting Criminals on Telegrams," and "The Classification of Officers Below the Rank of Sergeant."

The convention then accompanied Chief McClaughrey to the Harrison-street station to examine into the workings of the Bertillion system.

It was decided by an unanimous vote to hold the next convention in St. Louis.

An effort to make W. A. Pinkerton an honorary member of the association was voted down.

DINED ON HIS DAUGHTER.

Particulars of the Horrible Crime of Cannibalism by the Nasconopis Indian.

MONTREAL, Can., May 19.—The following details have reached here of the cannibalism reported Wednesday. All the members of an Indian tribe called the Nasconopis started out for their winter hunt around the river Ste. Marguerite, below Quebec. Among the party was a man named Jacks and his daughter, aged 18.

The hunt proving a failure, the party hastened to return as quickly as possible, and after enduring hardships and starvation, its numbers finally reached a point in the wilderness some sixty miles distant from their homes. Weak and famished, without a morsel to eat, they were in a desperate condition.

The father of the girl resolved to sacrifice her to preserve his own life, and one morning when his companions were nearly frozen with the cold he killed the daughter and appeased his hunger.

Horror-stricken, his companions fled, refusing to take the miserable man with them, and at last accounts he had not yet made his appearance in the settlements, and the probability is that if he has survived he is keeping away on account of his crime.

The others finally succeeded in getting back to their homes more dead than alive, and later the terrible story was related to Rev. Mr. Maltais, curate of St. Etienne du Saguenay, who at once notified Coroner Fafford, at Pointe des Monos, with a view to an investigation.

An Unusual Lack of Promptness in Transmitting Information.

WASHINGTON, May 19.—No official advices concerning the appointment of Mr. M. L. Thurston to represent the government of Hawaii to succeed Mr. J. Mott Smith have been received at the state department. Usually the mail steamer from Honolulu to San Francisco brings advices to the department which are telegraphed from the latter place, but no dispatches from Mr. Blount that might have arrived by the steamer of Wednesday were wired from San Francisco. This lack of prompt notification is somewhat unusual and is accounted for at the department by the belief that Mr. Blount had nothing important to communicate.

Found Drowned in the Ohio.

CINCINNATI, May 19.—The corpse of an unknown man, about 35 years old, was taken from the river at Fleming's Landing yesterday morning. A bullet hole in the right temple indicates murder, as there are no powder marks on the face to show that the wound was self-inflicted. The body was dressed in a new suit of brown cloth and silk underwear. A few trinkets were found in his pockets, but no money. He was about five feet seven inches in height. His hair was reddish in color and he wore a mustache and side whiskers. On the left hand, the index and middle fingers are missing.

EDITORS IN COUNCIL.

The National Editorial Association in Chicago.

A PAPER ON TYPE-SETTING MACHINES

And Their Value in Composing Rooms of Small Offices—A Novel Proposition for Holding the Next Convention in Midocean.

CHICAGO, May 18.—The convention of the National Editorial association at the Mecca hotel was slow in resuming business this morning. The first thing done when the convention was called to order was the announcement of invitations to the delegates to visit objects of interest.

Clinton Rosette, of DeKalb, Ill., president of the Illinois Press Association, read a paper on type-setting machines and their value in the composing rooms of small daily and weekly journals. Mr. Rosette said the type-setting machine, in its wonderful and complicated mechanism, is the most interesting invention of the last seven years. Its success has been demonstrated, and the machine has come to stay.

After the reading of the paper there was no discussion on the subject of machines, but A. Valor, delegate from Indiana, moved that a committee be appointed to further investigate the subject. Mr. Valor said that when an editor proposed to buy one of the machines he was asked to pay an extravagant price for it or lease it on terms favorable to the lessee. He thought the whole subject ought to be looked into further. The motion was adopted and the chair appointed Mr. Valor, Mr. Proctor, of Massachusetts and W. C. Sharps, of Connecticut, to serve on the committee.

Mr. Munger, of the New York delegation, got up as the type-setting machine matter was about to be dismissed and presented a resolution. President Price was about to turn it over to the committee on resolutions, but Munger demanded that it be read to the convention, and the demand was complied with. The resolution said that a certain line of type-setting machines had succeeded in getting an excellent advertisement into Mr. Rosette's paper, for it was the only machine mentioned by that gentleman. The resolution demands that the makers of all of the other type-setting machines be permitted to present to Mr. Valor's committee the merits of their inventions. The resolution was referred to the resolution committee.

Secretary Pabor read a paper which had been prepared by Robert M. White, editor of the Mexican (Mo.) Ledger, on the subject: "What Is a Newspaper, and What Is News?"

The next question discussed was "Where Will the Association Meet Next Summer?"

Boston came to the front with a scheme to hold the convention of 1894 in the middle of the Atlantic ocean. It was proposed to take the whole association on an excursion to Europe and hold the convention on the steamer going over. The trip would extend over two months and would cost each delegate $250.

Florida extended a hearty invitation, and so did Asbury Park, N. J., and Asheville, N. C. The matter was finally postponed until 11 o'clock to-morrow morning.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon the editors were taken on a lake excursion on the new whaleback steamer Columbus.

This evening the delegates and their wives witnessed the performance of "America," at the Auditorium.

THE ARMY DISGRACED

By the Ignoble Death of One of Its Commissioned Officers.

NEW YORK, May 19.—Col. David C. Houston, an engineer in the United States army, died yesterday morning at St. Vincent's hospital of jaundice. He was 58 years old, and a native of New York.

The circumstances surrounding the death are peculiar. Two weeks ago, accompanied by a woman known as Mrs. Minnie Porter, he went to the Everett house, where the couple were assigned separate rooms, Mrs. Porter passing as his niece. The couple did a large amount of drinking.

Friday last some of Col. Houston's friends called at the hotel and found the army officer in such a condition that they at once sent him to St. Vincent's hospital. In the meantime the woman kept up her debauch, procuring liquor outside the hotel. Sunday her condition became such that the house physician had her removed to Bellvue hospital.

Before leaving the hotel the unfortunate woman told the housekeeper that her home was in Tennessee, and that her husband, a son and a daughter were living there. At the hospital the woman's condition became worse, and yesterday morning the house physician said she could not live.

A dispatch was yesterday received at the hospital from Stamford, Conn., stating that some person would start last night to take care of the woman.

The attending physician at St. Vincent's hospital would neither deny nor assert that Col. Houston had been a victim of alcoholism.

Musical Director Thomas Sick.

WORLD'S FAIR GROUNDS, CHICAGO, May 19.—It was ascertained late in the day, yesterday, that Mr. Thomas is at home sick from a severe cold, and that he may be unable to appear for several days. Mr. Thomas had not yet received Mr. Davis' letter requesting his resignation, and as he recognizes no one but the heads of the music bureau, he will probably refer it to them before replying. As the matter now stands the entire bureau will have to be disrupted to get at Mr. Thomas with the order from the national commission.

HAMSHER & CALHOUN, Prop'rs

DECATUR, ILLINOIS.

Entered at the PostOffice at Decatur, Illinois as second class matter.

FRIDAY EVE., MAY 19, 1893.

The treasury department is being flooded with letters and resolutions asking the government to interfere and prevent the opening of the World's Fair on Sunday.

The president has at last recognized a Tammany man. John F. Walsh whom he appointed Inspector of Vessels for New York City is a full blood Tammanyite. It is not much of an office but it is an important recognition.

A Springfield despatch charges that the lawyers in the general assembly are responsible for the defeat of the "Torrens bill" which provides for a simple system of describing real estate, and thus doing away with much of the complications in conveying real estate that are often very troublesome.

Some Democratic organs occasionally pitch into McKinley and his tariff law and theorize about the tariff after the fashion of the late campaign. This is not in order. The Democrats have full power and nothing is in order but to give the people a better system of tariff than is embraced in a protective tariff. But if protection robs the people to the extent free-traders say it does, it is an outrage that the Democrats permit that robbery to continue as it is doing.

The Morning Review states that the Republican has been trying to put Mayor Moffitt in the attitude of an obstructionist. This is untrue. The Republican has so far assumed that Mayor Moffitt will do what his judgment dictates and will not follow the advice of the Review bosses and others who would make him an obstructionist should he follow their advice. Mayor Moffitt has sense enough to know that he is responsible to the people for his official conduct and not to the would be advisors. The mayor has some splendid evidence of the compromising attitude those people would lead him into, in the opinion advanced by the Prairie street organ as to the relative powers of the mayor and the city council, and if he ever has an hour of spare time, some rainy day, he ought to employ it reading the law relating to the duties of the mayor and city council to the Review people.

Electric Rapid Transit.

St. Louis Republic: The proposed electric road between this city and Chicago is feasible, says Nikola Tesla, the famous electrical expert, in an interview recently published by a Pittsburg paper, but he is not so sure it will be a success financially. The high speed aimed at can be attained, but the expense will be heavy and the traffic may not be sufficient to compensate for the extra outlay. "With an inclosed track, heavy cars and motors, the center of gravity near the track level and no grade crossings, there is nothing," he says, "to interfere with the mechanical success of the plan." In this connection it may be stated that an electric road is now being constructed between Toledo and Detroit, a distance of 65 miles, and Mr. Tesla thinks that one will be built between New York and Philadelphia, a distance of 90 miles before many years.

How To Allay the Crisis.

The Baltimore American gives advice that ought to be heeded when it says that capital is timid and easily alarmed. The slightest causes sometimes produce momentous results in financial affairs, and it must be acknowledged that the main reason for the present stringency is not a trifling one. The timidity, the shrinking within itself, of capital, the effort to fortify itself against possible disaster, is traceable directly to the timid and vacilating course of the government. To check it confidence must be absolutely restored, and this can be accomplished only, if at all, by a clear, manly statement of the administration, thrusting aside all uncertainty, and assuring the business and financial interests of the country that henceforth temporizing expedients will be abandoned, and the obviously proper course will be pursued of paying out the money on demand which has been placed in the treasury for that purpose, and that bonds will be sold, or congress called together, in time to make up any deficiency that may occur. It is not certain that this will put an end to the crisis. It is very difficult to allay suspicion when once aroused, but it may materially modify the situation and dissipate some of the perils.

The City Council.

There are some people in the city who are engaged in the business of giving bad advice to the mayor and other members of the city council, which, if followed, will result in material injury to the affairs of the city. There is one condition that is an established fact, namely, that the council is strongly Republican while the mayor is a Democrat, and the kind of advice we have in mind is such as tends to bring on a conflict between these powers based upon that fact. The logic of the situation is that the mayor cannot force the council to do the things it does not want to do, neither can the council force the mayor to do the things he does not wish to do. Both the mayor and the city council recognize these facts, and if left to themselves will make the best of the situation; but, if on the other hand, bad advice coming from those who are unable to accept the situation, is followed, it will be disastrous to all concerned. The city council has given notice that it cannot confirm certain appointments made by the mayor. That is their prerogative and the man who contends that the council ought to confirm all appointments, simply denies the council the same right they accord the mayor. This right of the Mayor to appoint and the council to confirm or reject his appointments is a matter of law and not of courtesy. So far as we are able to judge there is no disposition on the part of the council to be factious in this matter. It has simply followed its best judgment, which the law contemplates it shall do. The mayor is broad-minded enough to recognize and appreciate these facts. He will proceed to make other appointments and submit them to the council for its judgment.

It has been suggested by some people that the mayor is witholding the committee appointments with the view of using them to force certain aldermen to vote to confirm his appointments. There is no evidence to support this allegation, in fact the mayor has on more than one occasion stated that the council had the same right to reject, on their judgment, an appointment as he has to make it, on his judgment. The mayor is too familiar with the rights of the mayor and the council to assume that an alderman who has any regard for his oath and the people who elected him can afford to waive his lawful duty to exercise his ability in determining what appointments ought to be confirmed and what ones ought to be rejected, for the sake of the best place the mayor could give him on a committee. In other words, no alderman can afford to barter away his judgment, which the people are entitled to, for any particular place on a committee, especially when it may involve crowding out some other alderman who may be better qualified for the place.

The idea that some people entertain, that a mayor is the dictator of a council and can force them from the line of their duty, or that ten aldermen can assume the functions of the mayor, is all the merest moonshine, and the quicker any such notions cease to be urged upon them the better it will be for all concerned. The people would not endorse such a course on the part of either the council or the mayor, and we do not believe that any such course will be inaugurated. While the law clearly defines the duty of both the mayor and council to exercise their judgment in public affairs, though that judgment may sometimes be conflicting, it does not contemplate that the liberty of judgment shall at any time be supplanted by factionalism; and we do not believe that either the mayor or the city council will allow themselves to assume or be driven into that attitude by designing people.

It isn't in the ordinary way that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription comes to the weak and suffering woman who needs it. It's guaranteed. Not with words merely; any medicine can make claims and promises. What is done with the "Favorite Prescription" is this: if it fails to benefit or cure, in any case, your money is returned. Can you ask any better proof that a medicine will do what it promises?

It's an invigorating, restorative tonic, a soothing and strengthening nervine, and a certain remedy for the ills and ailments that beset a woman. In "female complaint" of every kind, periodical pains, internal inflammation or ulceration, bearing-down sensations, and all chronic weaknesses and irregularities, it is a positive and complete cure.

To every tired, overworked woman, and to every weak, nervous, and ailing one, it is guaranteed to bring health and strength.

To every sufferer from Catarrh, no matter how bad the case or of how long standing, the proprietors of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy say this: "If we can't cure it, perfectly and permanently, we'll pay you $500 in cash." Sold by all druggists.

IN THE PUSH TO REACH SCOVILL

In Sunday's Chicago papers of May 7, the following advertisement for a room was inserted for one issue only:

WANTED—TO RENT—A ROOM FOR TWO persons for a month, give location and terms. G. W. SCOVILL, Furniture Dealer, Decatur, Ill.

I have received 960 bona fide answers, all offering to rent rooms. On last Tuesday I received 585 letters and postal cards. I now claim the distinction of having received letters from more different individuals in one day than any other citizen of Decatur.

I also claim the distinction of having the only place in Decatur where you can buy everything to furnish a house.

I also claim to be the first in Decatur to advertise that I would sell Furniture, Carpets, Stoves and all manner of Household Goods on Easy Payments.

I was also first to advertise that I would pay freight on all goods sold outside of Decatur.

Now I say to my friends and customers if you want information about rooms in Chicago, come and look over the long list offered me in 960 different parts of Chicago. It is a large list and I am certain you can be suited; but don't get the list of letters confounded with the 10 000 bargains I have to offer you.

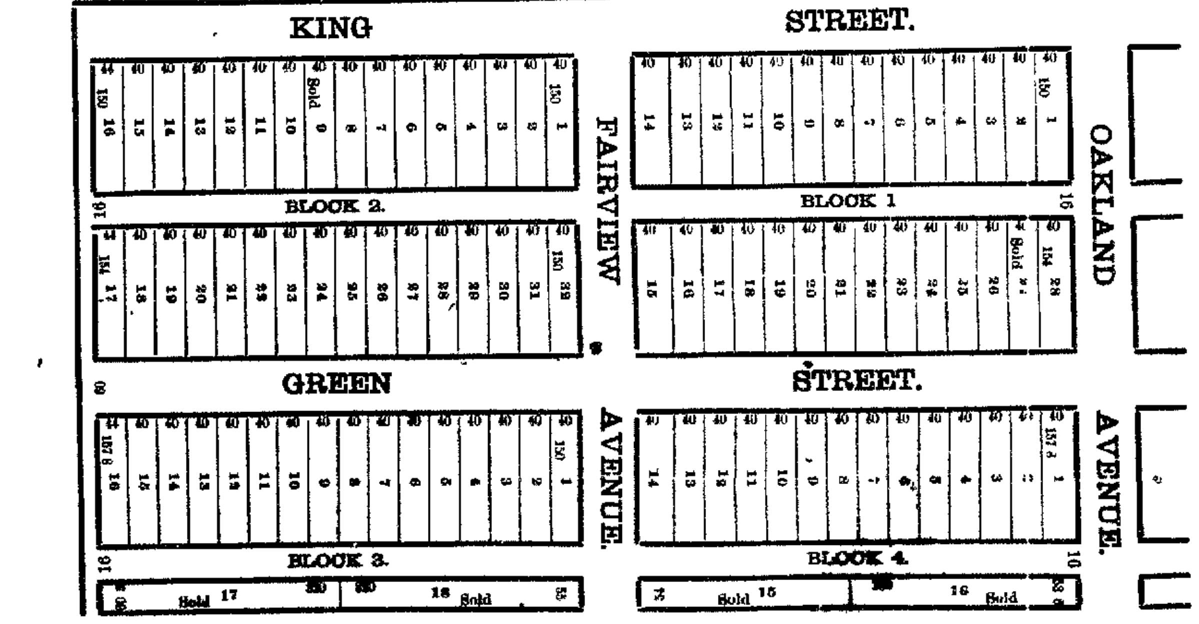
B. I. STERRETT, ATTORNEY AT LAW.
OFFICE—Over the Postoffice, Decatur, Ill.

PUBLIC LAND SALE.

I will, as the attorney in fact of Matilda J. Moore, on WEDNESDAY, THE 24th DAY OF MAY, 1893, commencing at 10 o'clock a. m., sell at public sale the beautiful addition, SOLANA PLACE, except six lots, which have been already sold. There are 88 lots in this addition to be sold. Located on high and dry land just west of Oakland Avenue and between the Wabash Railway and King street. The considerations which determine the value of residence property are the nearness to the business center, character of neighborhood and healthiness of location. All these essentials are to be found in Solana Place It is no further from business than Pugh street, the Jasper Street school, or Oakland Park. It is eight blocks nearer than the outskirts of the city on the north. It is just across the railroad from the northwest corner of West Park Addition, which sold off and built up rapidly. It is two blocks west of Bellevue Place, which was all sold out in less than two weeks. It adjoins Park Place and is sure to sell fast. The neighborhood is of high character and the houses bespeak the character. The city is already built up to it, no fields intervening. The land slopes to the south and west. The drainage is perfect. No possibility of making a mistake. Buy and double your money. A street railway is promised within two blocks of this addition. The gravel road insures good driving all the year round, because it extends to the paved streets.

This valuable addition was platted and laid out in lots, blocks, streets and alleys last fall, and the owner has now decided to sell it. Here is a bargain for the parties lucky enough to get it. Here they can double their money long before the last payment becomes due.

SOLANA PLACE.



The above is a plat of the addition and shows the lots sold, and is now on record.

Terms of Sale—I will first receive bids on each lot separate, and then will receive bids on each block separate, and then will offer it as a whole, and if the bids for all exceeds the combined separate bids, it will be sold in a body, and if not the separate bids will be accepted. Purchasers will pay one-third cash on day of sale, and one-third in one year, and one-third in two years with 7 per cent. interest per annum. A discount of 6 per cent. on all accounts paid on day of sale above one-third will be given. Sale will be on the premises west of city. Come and bid, and buy and get rich. Sale commencing at 10 o'clock a. m. Wednesday, May 24th. For any further information call on me at my office over J. Millikin & Co.'s bank.

THE name of W. H. Stewart, of the Seventh Ward, was attached to the communication from nine aldermen informing Mayor Moffitt that they would not vote for the confirmation of J. S. Reeves for marshal and J. W. Kirkbride for captain of the night police. In some manner in copying the document the night of the council meeting the name of Mr. Stewart was overlooked and no paper existed his name in connection with the appointment.

On the Law Points.

The Bee-keeper is in receipt of late copies of the Evening Press from Dayton, Ohio, where the general conference of the United Brethren church is in session. At the session on Tuesday, with Bishop Kephart in the chair, there was a long discussion on the item of paying members in the church, and this new question to be put to new members was adopted: "Are you willing to contribute to the support of the gospel as God shall prosper you?" The two lady members of the conference voted in favor of the item. The item making it an immorality for any member of the church to go to law, unless it be necessary by the fact that they are administrators or are about to suffer loss of property or injury, was adopted. A member removing from a charge and not reporting annually to that charge, may be marked removed. This does not compel the removed member to contribute to his former charge.

Quiet Church Wedding.

There was a quiet wedding at St. John's Episcopal church, last evening, witnessed by the immediate relatives and a few near friends. Frederick K. Morgan, a merchant tailor of Bloomington, and Mrs. Annie E. Young, also of Bloomington, were married by the rector, Rev. M. M. Goodwin. The usual Episcopal ceremony was used. After the wedding the party partook of a marriage feast at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Bobo on West Eldorado street. Mrs. B. is a sister of the bride. Mrs. Morgan is a daughter-in-law of R. J. Young, whose home is on West King street. Mr. and Mrs. Morgan left for Bloomington last night.

Admitted.

The auditor of state yesterday admitted the Presbyterian Ministers' Fund of Philadelphia to do business in Illinois. The original charter of the company, dated Jan. 11, 1759, was issued in the name of the corporation for the relief of the poor and distressed Presbyterian ministers and of poor and distressed widows and children of Presbyterian ministers.

THREE species of music are to be employed in "The World Finder," which is to be given in "The Chicago Spectatorium" when that building is ready. The first is called the symphonic and follows all the cosmic changes of scene and all the dramatic action. Second, is the incidental music, which occurs in the scenes themselves and which in this production will illustrate with the instruments of the Fifteenth century the music of that age. The third is the choral music. For the presentation of the incidental music ancient musical instruments have been imported from Spain and will be used in the production. These instruments will be a historical feature in themselves.

A SAD story is told of a young lady who began to gather stamps when a school girl in order to get a million of them and get the $500. She worked indefatigably. Friends were appealed to for stamps and stamp parties were given. Recently she secured the million, and labeling them nicely packed them to send to the unknown man who buys them, and who is always located in Chicago or some other large city. Needless to say there was no one to buy her stamps. The disappointment was such that the young lady went into a decline, and it is feared that she may finally lose her reason.

THE final step was yesterday taken in the proceedings by which the United States becomes the owner of the Cherokee strip. The number of acres ceded is 6,022,754 and the price to be paid for the same $8,595,786; and it is hoped to have everything in readiness for the President's proclamation on September 15. There will be a rush in September to secure land on the day when the word is given to "go." Every old soldier can get 160 acres by putting in his claim.

A PERFECT forest is being created by the Adam Forepaugh shows, and the Scenes and Battles of 1776---the American Revolution, wherever they appear this year. Although it is expected that they are extraordinary in their magnitude and merit, the public is not prepared to see anything so gigantic as they prove to be. They will doubtless attract a vast concourse of people to our city when they come here on Monday, May 29th.

IT WAS OUR DAY.

Dedication of the Splendid Illinois Building at the White City.

Thursday, May 18, was Illinois day at the World's Fair, and Illinois being the host for all the world at the big show the occasion was a notable one, with a tremendous crowd present to witness the ceremonies. The order of exercises as published in these columns heretofore was observed in the dedication of the imposing Illinois buildings.

DESCRIPTIVE.

Illinois has naturally taken the lead among her sister commonwealth in the erection of a state building. It has been properly classed as one of the great exposition structures. It is located on a terrace at a point where it may be seen from almost any portion of the grounds, the grand entrance facing the north pond.

The plan of the building forms a Greek cross, whose main axis is 400 feet long and 160 feet wide and lies east and west. The shorter axis 265 feet long with an average width of 98 feet. At the intersection of the arms of the cross rises the dome, with a diameter of 75 feet at the base and a height of 265 feet. The dome contains a continuation of the gallery which is reached by two circular stairways. At the east and west ends of the building are two large entrances. On either side of these entrances are rooms 20 feet deep and extending the entire width of the building, and also occupying the full height, which is three stories. The rooms at the east end are chiefly used for school purposes, a large one on the ground floor being fitted up as a model kindergarten. Beyond this extends the great exhibition hall, 261 feet long, the central portion being 75 feet wide and flanked by aisles 40 feet wide. The central division is lighted by windows in the clerestory and by roof lights. The aisles are lighted by semi-circular windows on the side walls. The southern part of the short arm of the cross is 121 feet wide, extending 75 feet beyond the walls of the main building. The lines of its cornice, being extended across the main building, form the external bays from which the dome springs. Its three stories are sub-divided into rooms, halls and corridors. This is the official part of the building, where the governor and his suite and the members of the board of commissioners meet to transact business. Some of the rooms have been set aside to accommodate the Woman's Board.

The northern arm of the cross is fireproof. It is 75 feet wide, and extends 50 feet beyond the main building. The walls are of brick, covered with stuff. The roof is of galvanized iron and glass, supported by steel trusses. This part is called Memorial Hall, and contains relics from the state capitol.

The design of the Illinois building is an adaptation of the Italian renaissance. The exterior accentuates the plan and construction of the building, no seemingly constructional feature being added for effect. Advantage has been taken of the plastic character of the outside covering, in a lavish use of ornament; the solids, as a rule, being highly enriched, with here and there a severe treatment of contrast. The base of the dome rises from a series of steps, upon which is a double support of the drum, the outer one being an order of Corinthian columns and the inner a wall pierced by windows. Above the entablature rises the drum, which is covered with galvanized iron. The trusses are accented on the outside by prominent ribs, the intermediate spaces being paneled.

The sculptured figure crowning the main entrance is by Lorado Taft. It is draped, with arms outstretched, and represents "Illinois Welcoming the Nations." Other allegorical groups are "La Salle and Companions" and "Education." Six young women in Illinois designed the seven original figures used as a part of the interior decoration, the figures and sculptors being as follows: "Maternity," Mrs. Ellen Rankin Copp; "Justice," Miss Janet Scudder; "Charity," Miss Carrie Brooks; "Faith," Miss Julia Bracken; "Learning," Miss Zulime Taft; "Art," Miss Bessie Potter; "Welcome," Miss Julia Bracken. The first six of these are of staff and the last of Parian marble.

The Spooners Coming.

The well-known Spooner Comedy Company will appear at the Grand every night next week and Saturday matinee, giving a change of play nightly. Prices 10, 20 and 30 cents. The St. Joseph Daily News speaks as follows of the company and opening play:

At Tootle's last night this popular comedy company made its first appearance in St. Joseph, presenting before a well-filled house the romantic Mexican drama "Inez." The play served to show the strength of the company, and met with a hearty reception from the audience. Miss Edna May Spooner is a very bright and talented young actress and her work last night was most satisfactory and pleasing. Her sister, Miss Cecil, only fourteen years of age, divided the honors with her. Miss Cecil is a wonderfully graceful dancer and quite captured the audience. The company as a whole is as good as many better advertised and higher-priced organizations and is worthy of patronage.

On Monday evening, one lady and one gentleman or two ladies admitted on one 30-cent ticket.

IF

The people of Decatur saw fit to send to Chicago for their groceries, dry goods, clothing, meat and all the necessaries of life, what a booming city we would have. Our merchants would make their fortunes in short order and our city would increase in population so fast that we would have take into the city limits all of Macon county. Our county poor farm would be turned into a public park and all would be harmony, even in our city council. This is a picture worth looking at carefully---for it interests all who have the interests of Decatur at heart.

If you agree with the above statement don't buy the Blue Ribbon brand of flour, for it is made in Decatur and by your own citizens who in turn spend their money in supporting home industries help pay your taxes, give employment to some 50 men who represent families aggregating in number 200 people.

They also contribute to all of your booming enterprises and draw the farmer trade into your city. Are the Shellabarger mills a benefit to your city? If so patronize them by using

BURGLARY IN RIVERSIDE PLACE.

The Home of Walter Hutchin Entered and Robbed in the Night.

Articles Taken—Robert Burns' Store Broken Open by the Thieves.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hutchin reside in a handsome two-story dwelling on Lincoln avenue in Riverside Place, just west of B. S. Tyler's new home. At about two o'clock this morning burglars entered the Hutchin residence and stole a suit of Bedford cloth clothes from Mr. Hutchin, his $150 gold watch and chain, a $25 Knights of Pythias charm, $2 in cash belonging to the family, one dollar's worth of street car tickets and $7 in cash belonging to Fern Leaf Lodge, No. 18, Pythian Sisters, besides store and safe keys belonging to Mr. Hutchin.

CRASHED THE THIEVES.

The presence of the robbers in the house was first discovered by Mrs. Hutchin. She and her husband occupy a bed room on the second floor, near the head of the stairway. The little son of the couple sleeps in a crib, and it is the habit of the family to burn a low light during the night. The light was burning low, when Mrs. H. was awakened by a noise on the carpeted stairway. The lady was only half awake, and her first thought was that Walter had been out of the room and was returning. She quickly discovered that her husband was in bed sound asleep, and just then a dark form entered the room and passed quickly to the foot of the bed where Mr. Hutchin's clothing was lying on a chair. Mrs. H. cried out as the man entered "Stop! I see you," but the robber didn't stop. He simply put up his hand in a silencing gesture, grabbed the clothes and dashed out of the door. Mrs. Hutchin gave a piercing scream and a cry of "murder," and then without waiting to waken her husband, she got out of bed and chased the robber down the stairway, following a step or two behind him. Mr. Hutchin had heard the scream. He got up instantly and hurried after his wife, and in the brief time between the robbery and the escape of the thieves—for there was another man on the lower floor—a great racket ensued, the shuffling of feet and stumbling over chairs. The burglars fled through the kitchen door, and as they left the dining room they placed a chair lengthwise across the door. Mrs. Hutchin ran against that and fell over on to the kitchen floor. The fall brought her to a sudden realization of what she was doing, and as the burglars had escaped, she became quite nervous and was prostrated until nearly daylight. Mr. Hutchin stepped to the kitchen door and saw two men scampering over the garden beds and disappear in the alley. He had no revolver or gun, and could not do anything to effect the capture of the thieves. He was in his night clothes and could not follow them, and besides his wife required his attention. Word was sent to police headquarters to watch the shoe store, when it was learned that all of the keys had been taken with the suit of clothes. Miss Effa Hutchin occupies an adjoining room on the upper floor. Her purse containing $12 and all of her jewelry with a diamond pin were on a corner of the dresser. The burglar did not enter her room. On the lower floor were Mrs. Hutchin's diamonds, considerable cash and other valuables. None were disturbed.

Investigation proved that the burglars had first attempted to enter the house through the front door. They used nippers from the outside to clinch the key in the lock to turn it. But the lock works hard and the effort was a failure. The robbers went to the kitchen door and had no trouble in turning the key in that lock. In this way they entered the residence.

The family had been out late attending a meeting of Fern Leaf Lodge, for which Mrs. Hutchin is treasurer. The money she got last night was $7 in silver and on the way home she gave the bulky money to her husband to carry for her. He put the purse in the hip pocket of his pantaloons, and when the burglar grabbed the suit he cornered all the cash in the bedroom at one dash.

Mrs. Hutchin in giving her first description of the robber said he looked to her like a policeman because she thought he wore a helmet hat. There are tracks in the garden showing that one of the men wore a No. 8 or 8½ boot or shoe. An orange and a lead pencil were found in the garden. This morning Mr. Hutchin notified Marshal Mason and that official sent an officer to Riverside to learn what he could about the robbery.

GROCERY STORE ENTERED.

At the corner of Cantrell and Peaks streets Robert Burns has a grocery store. It appears that the robbers first entered that store. They turned the key in the side door, but as there was a prop on the inside against the lock the door would not open. A panel was cut out of the door, and the prop was taken away. The money drawer was taken outside. Only 30 cents in pennies were taken. The thieves failed to find $5 in pennies. A few oranges were stolen. Nothing else is missing.

Early in the evening, at about 8:30 o'clock two strangers entered the Burns store and one bought a Little Rose cigar. They asked how business was and went out. A partial description of the men has been secured.

The double robbery is the sensation among the residents of Riverside Place. There are no back or dividing fences but the neighbors are chatting about the affair industriously, and the bravery of Mrs. Hutchin who had the nerve to chase the robbers down the stairway and through the house.

Inquiries were made as to the possibility of other robbers in the neighborhood, but no other house was entered. A lead pencil similar to the one found in the Hutchin yard was found on the porch of a physician on the south side of Lincoln avenue.

FOUND HIS CLOTHING.

Mrs. Hutchin engaged a small boy this morning to go over into the Johns' pasture near by and see if Mr. Hutchin's clothing could be found. The lad returned shortly carrying the suit of clothes. Mr. Hutchin examined the clothing and found everything in the pockets except his watch and chain and money. His Chinese laundry check was left in the pocket, so was also the ticket of his watch. This is supposed to have been pulled loose by the burglars pulling the watch from the pocket. His store and safe keys were not found.

Fuller and Cyrus Imboden was appointed to confer with those who are arranging the matter. The committee will report at another meeting.

Coming to Decatur.

The State Medical society concluded its annual session in Chicago yesterday. The following officers were elected: President, Dr. P. H. Hill, of Peoria; treasurer, George N. Kraidler, of Springfield; secretary, John B. Hamilton, of Chicago; assistant secretary, E. J. Brown, of Decatur. The next annual meeting will be at Decatur, Ill., the third Tuesday in May, 1894.

Last Chance.

To see the great moral art show, at 147 South Water street. The thousands of people who visit the automatic exhibition all come away highly delighted. Many go back the second, the third, and some the fourth time, and each time discover some new and interesting feature. It is something they can stand for hours, and never tire of looking at this wonderful invention.

The Blunder Already Realized.

Philadelphia Press: Two months of Democratic rule have restored Republican prospects. The reaction is already apparent. The people are beginning to realize their blunder. The Western elections have shown it. The conditions are here for a Republican revival.

A Bad Injury.

John B. Freeman and wife are visiting relatives in Mowequa, and on last Monday Mr. Freeman accidentally ran a rusty nail in his knee. The injury is giving him some trouble, but it is not thought that it will result in a permanent injury.

A Picnic.

Miss Della Wilson gave a most enjoyable picnic last evening at Riverside Park. Fifteen couples were in attendance, and the evening was enjoyably spent in boating. Refreshments were served. The picnic was from 5 until 11 o'clock.

TOOK CARBOLIC ACID.

Sad Death of the Little Son of Alfred Robinson on West North Street.

There is deep sorrow in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Robinson, at 549 West North street, this afternoon. Their little son, aged 3½ years, died at about 1:40 o'clock, as the result of swallowing a quantity of carbolic acid. The family moved to-day from 1053 West Howard street to West North street. At the new home all of the furniture, boxes and baskets were in confusion, and the children were running about the rooms. The little boy, while the mother was engaged in another part of the dwelling adjusting the furniture, came across a basket partly filled with bottles of medicine, and while nobody was near he pulled out a bottle containing carbolic acid, uncorked it and drank a quantity of the burning liquid, enough to make him cry out with pain, and render him unconscious. Dr. Jones was summoned to the house at once. Every possible efforts were made to save the life of the child, but they were without avail. He did not speak and apparently he did not suffer. His lips were burnt and swollen and part of his chin upon which the liquid had dropped, was burnt.

Mr. Robinson is the confectioner and fruit dealer in the small room south of Bradley Bros. dry goods store. He is widely known and will receive the sympathy of his hosts of friends in his sad bereavement. There are three other children in the family.

Sunday Opening.

The resolution of the local directory of the world's fair to waive the $2,500,000 loan made by the general government in aid of the fair because the act appropriating it provides that the fair shall not be kept open on Sunday, and to open the fair on Sunday has created considerable dissatisfaction over the country. The treasury department is being flooded with requests from individuals and organizations asking the government to interfere and prevent the opening under the act.

The general assembly of the Presbyterian church, now in session in Washington, D. C., has unanimously adopted resolutions appealing to the national commissioners to prevent Sunday opening. The state Sunday school convention at its session in Quincy passed similar resolutions, and the Baptist auxiliary of the religious congress of the world's fair at a meeting yesterday passed resolutions which declare that if the local directory persist in Sunday opening the representatives of that church will withdraw its acceptance to participate in the fair. These are but a sample of the many protests which are being made, but so far they seem to have had no effect upon the local directory, and the national commission has given no hint as to what course it will pursue in the unpleasant matter.

Trouble for Partisan Altgeld.

Gov. Altgeld, who has proven himself the only governor the state ever had who was demagogue enough to organize the state charitable institutions into partisan political machines, is having some trouble convincing honest men that his conduct in this regard is not a reproach upon the good name of the state. Some time ago the governor removed the board of trustees of the northern hospital for the insane, which was made up of Democrats and Republicans, and put in their places Democrats, and then instructed the trustees to remove the superintendent and appoint a man he named. The resident trustee, John Newman, knowing that the institution would suffer by the proposed change refused to consent to it and was removed by the governor several days ago and yesterday, Valentine A. Dieter, another member of the board resigned on account of the governor's high-handed course. In an interview Mr. Dister disposed of the governor as follows: "My views are in entire harmony with Mr. Newman's, that politics should have nothing to do with the treatment of the insane, and that the Democracy always has been to follow his convictions of right and he would always do so rather than be trustee or hold any other office in the gift of the governor."

To-Morrow Ends It.

To-morrow and to-morrow night will be the last opportunity to see in Decatur on South Water street the most wonderful mechanical art exhibition ever placed before the public. We will not attempt to give a description of the marvelous works, for we could not do them justice. But what we have written of them before we emphasize, with the addition that everybody should see the automatic marvels before they leave Decatur.

LOGAN LETTER.

The REPUBLICAN is indebted to J. T. Roberts dealer in grain, provisions and stocks with correspondents in Chicago, New York, Minneapolis and St. Louis, for the following P. O. Logan & Co.'s market letter received over the Roberts private wire.

CHICAGO, Ill., May 19, 1893.

We have had a moderately active wheat market since the opening. The general condition of the growing crop of winter wheat is unchanged. The reports of the spring crop are favorable and with fine weather we should have a full average. Foreign advices are rather weak but not quotably lower. There may not be much profit to buy it in the near future but our opinion is that until it gets nearer the crop it will pay to buy on declines from to-day's prices.

The corn market has been steady. The features to-day have been liquidation by holders and buying by local operators. Reports from the corn belt are all very favorable for the growing crop, and advices are that the movement will be largely increased. The demand is good and we look for it to continue.

Not much doing in oats. The growing crop looks well and the feeling is rather bearish. The cash demand is good.

Provisions strong from the opening. This commodity is in the hands of one or two men and they can, if they choose, dictate the price at which they will sell or settle.

MRS. SARAH TITUS ZABRISKIE, of New York, has paid $13,000 to Benjamin R. Smith, of Philadelphia, for his lot of land on Washington street, Newport, facing the harbor and bay. Mrs. Zabriskie will build a church for St. Joseph's Parish thereon, in memory of her mother, to cost $100,000.

THE importance of small things should not be overlooked. Is a pill for sick headache important? Is a pill for biliousness important? Is a pill for constipation important? Then DeWitt's Little Early Risers are important. They are small. W. F. Neisler.

MRS. BLAINE will go to Bar Harbor in a day or two, and later in the month will sail for Europe with her youngest daughter. She will probably stay abroad a year, spending most of the time in England, where she will take a house.
